

A Whimper or a Roar

January 17, 2021

It is no exaggeration or hyperbole to state that Trump will either be remembered for all of time as the greatest leader in history, who went on to save the greatest nation in the world against all odds, from the worst traitors the world has ever seen. Or he will be remembered as a leader who went all the way up to the finish line, and yet through betrayal by aides and defeat by the enemy, heart-breakingly failed to make it over the finish line and allowed the greatest, freest nation in the world to fall. Perhaps more spectacularly than any nation in history ever has.

I cannot think of a way to overemphasize what we are watching unfold.

The names Caesar and Brutus still pass through our lips... We still marvel at the fall of Rome thousands of years later.

I believe the events we are witnessing firsthand will dwarf the story of Rome and every other empire.

Our God Emperor will either go out with a whimper, or he will surprise his enemies, along with even the most enthusiastic of his remaining supporters.
